

We Salute You . . .

We proudly dedicate the 1986 Eagle to Dr. John Cooper.

Since your first day in the high school you have known him as your principal. He introduced you to the high school during that first orientation assembly that September long ago.

Though you know him as the principal, he has a personal and caring side that many do not have a chance to share with him. He seems to always be around whether in the office, hallways, classrooms, or after school at those many events that make school special. Remember that donkey basketball game?

He has been working to promote school spirit and has put many hours into seeing changes that will affect others for years to come. This year alone we have seen pep rallies, a bonfire, and the opening of the new "E" wing addition.

Dr. Cooper is an asset to the school, its students, faculty, and community and is deserving of this recognition.

Mrs. Gail Heimberger

We proudly dedicate the 1986 Eagle to Mrs. Gail Heimburger. By the time you graduate, you will have had her as an instructor or have known her through her involvement in school. Her bubbly personality and caring nature show in the "in" school and "out" of school activities she is involved with.

Along with the classes she teaches, Mrs. Heimburger is the ACT Coordinator and the National Honor Society advisor. According to her husband, she is a sun worshipper and enjoys skiing, swimming and serving her church.

Her interest in psychology has made it a natural for her to be the "heart" for the school.

Her students have said of her, "She is as much of a friend as a teacher." "She is enthusiastic and has a lot of school spirit. She cares for her students and their problems."

We thank you for the care and love you have given to others.
