TO A FRIEND

*You entered my life in a casual way,
And saw at a glance what I needed,
There were others who passed me or met me each day,
But never a one of them heeded.
Perhaps you were thinking of other folks more,
Or simply chance seemed to decree it;
I know there were many such chances before,
But the others—well, they just didn't see it.*

*You said just the thing that I wished you would say,
And you made me believe that you meant it;
I held up my head in the old gallant way,
And resolved you should never repent it.
There are times when encouragement means such a lot,
And a word is enough to convey it;
There were others who could have, as easy as not—
But just the same, they didn't say it.*

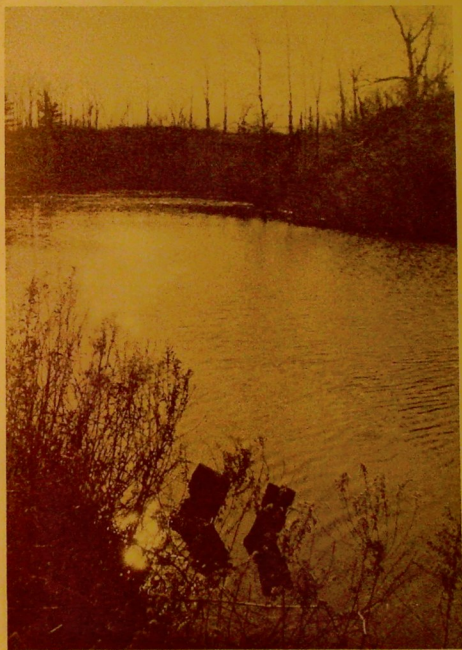

*There may have been someone who could have done more
To help me along, though I doubt it;
What I needed was cheering, and always before
They had let me plod onward without it.
You helped me refashion the dream of my heart,
And made me turn eagerly to it;
There were others who might have (I question that part)—
But after all, they didn't do it.*

Grace Stricker Dawson

WORLD TREE

*The shaky limbs
Of the world tree
Are apt to break
From all the weight*

Mark Spencer

TALL TREE

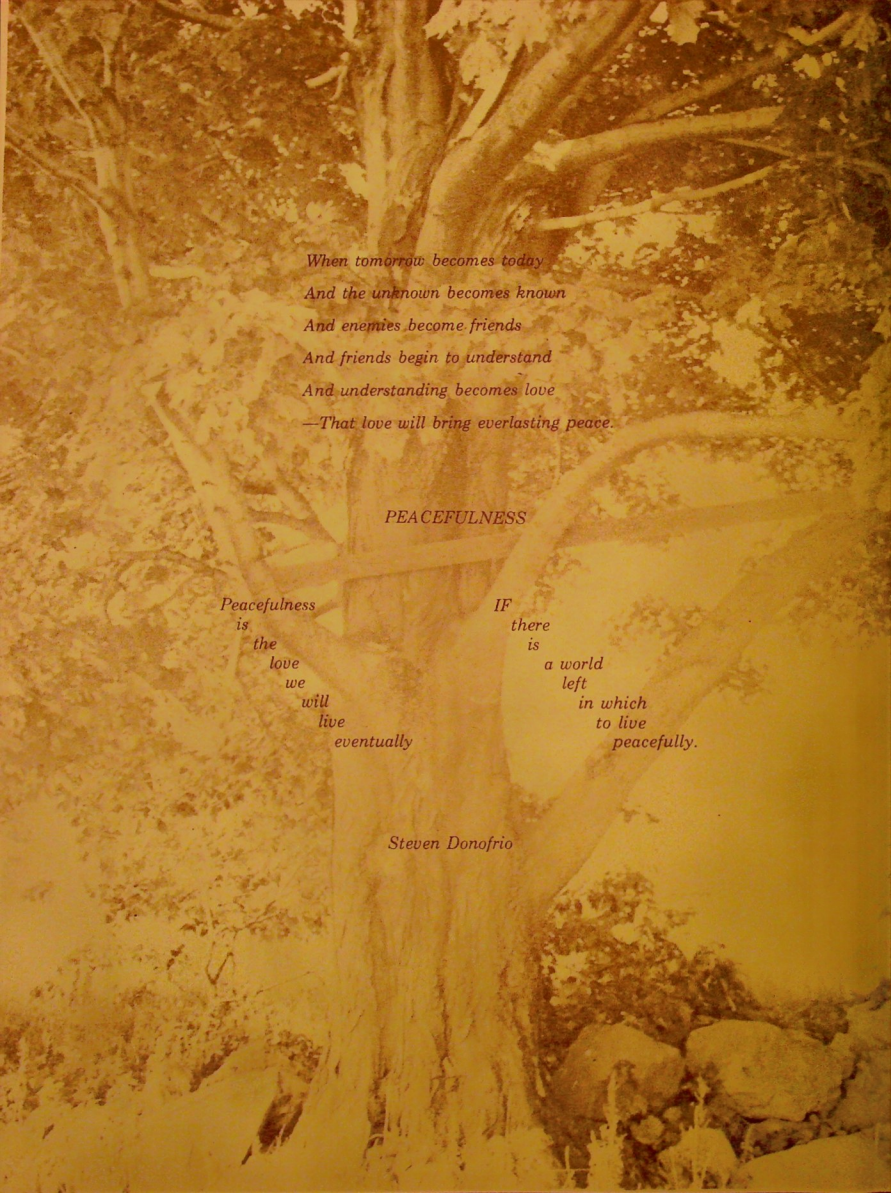

*The tree and the dirt
Have a long friendship
They last
With a blessed matrimony.
The dirt questions not
And gives its riches.
The tree takes all
And strives for stars.
Dirt is a faithful thing
For it keeps giants of wood up high.
Behind every great tree
Is sod.*

Arthur Drummond III

SUNSET

*The sunset begins
Beyond the mountain valley
Deep in the forest
Among the whispering trees
The dark night begins anew*

Mark Spencer

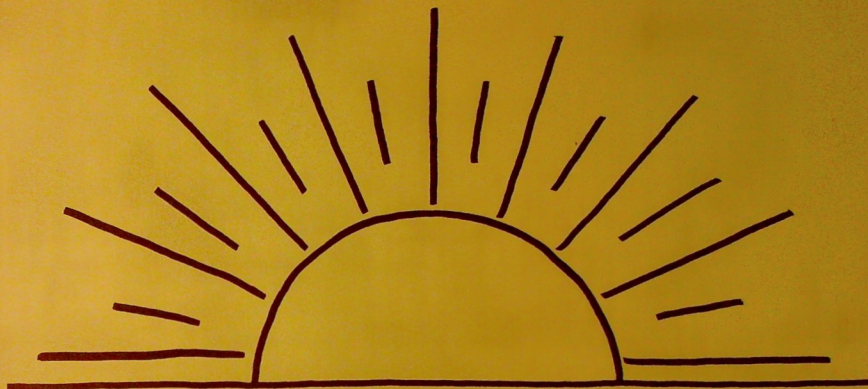

*When tomorrow becomes today
And the unknown becomes known
And enemies become friends
And friends begin to understand
And understanding becomes love
—That love will bring everlasting peace.*

PEACEFULNESS

*Peacefulness
is the love
we will live eventually*

*IF there is a world
left in which to live peacefully.*

Steven Donofrio

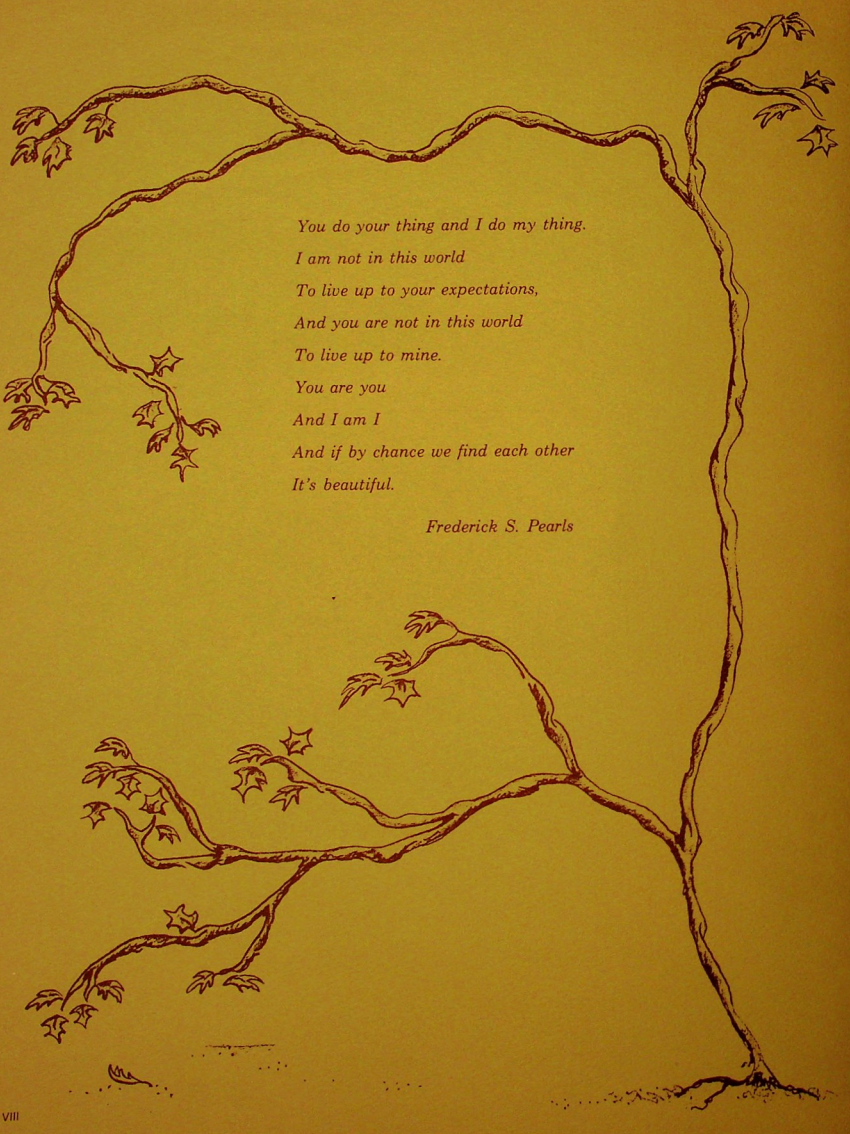

BEAUTIFUL

*You've got to get up every morning with a smile on your face
And show the world all the love in your heart
Then people gonna treat you better
You're gonna find, yes you will
That you're beautiful as you feel.*

*Waiting at the station with a workday wind a-blowing
I've got nothing to do but watch the passers-by Mirrored in their faces I see frustration growing
And they don't see it showing, why do I?*

*I have often asked myself the reason for the sadness
In a world where tears are just a lullabye
If there's any answer, maybe love can end the madness
Maybe not, oh, but we can only try.*

Carole King

*You do your thing and I do my thing.
I am not in this world
To live up to your expectations,
And you are not in this world
To live up to mine.
You are you
And I am I
And if by chance we find each other
It's beautiful.*

Frederick S. Pearls

*If a man does not keep pace with his companions,
Perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer.
Let him step to the music which he hears,
However measured or far away.*

Henry David Thoreau

GRATITUDE

*"How can I ever repay you?"
I've said it, and so have you.
How can I ever in all this world
Repay the things you do?
Perhaps I never can repay
To you—or you to me,
But we can pass that kindness on
To others we may see.
And though you never need my help—
I pray you never do—
By helping others, I'll repay
My heartfelt debt to you.*

Helen Lowrie Marshall

*The tree withers
From lack of water; the child,
From lack of love.*

Peggy Foos

THE DUNCE

*He says no with his head
but he says yes with his heart
he says yes to what he loves
he says no to the teacher
he stands
he is questioned
and all the problems are posed sudden laughter seizes him and he erases all
the words and figures
names and dates
sentences and snares
and despite the teacher's threats to the jeers of infant prodigies with chalk of every color
on the blackboard of misfortune
he draws the face of happiness.*

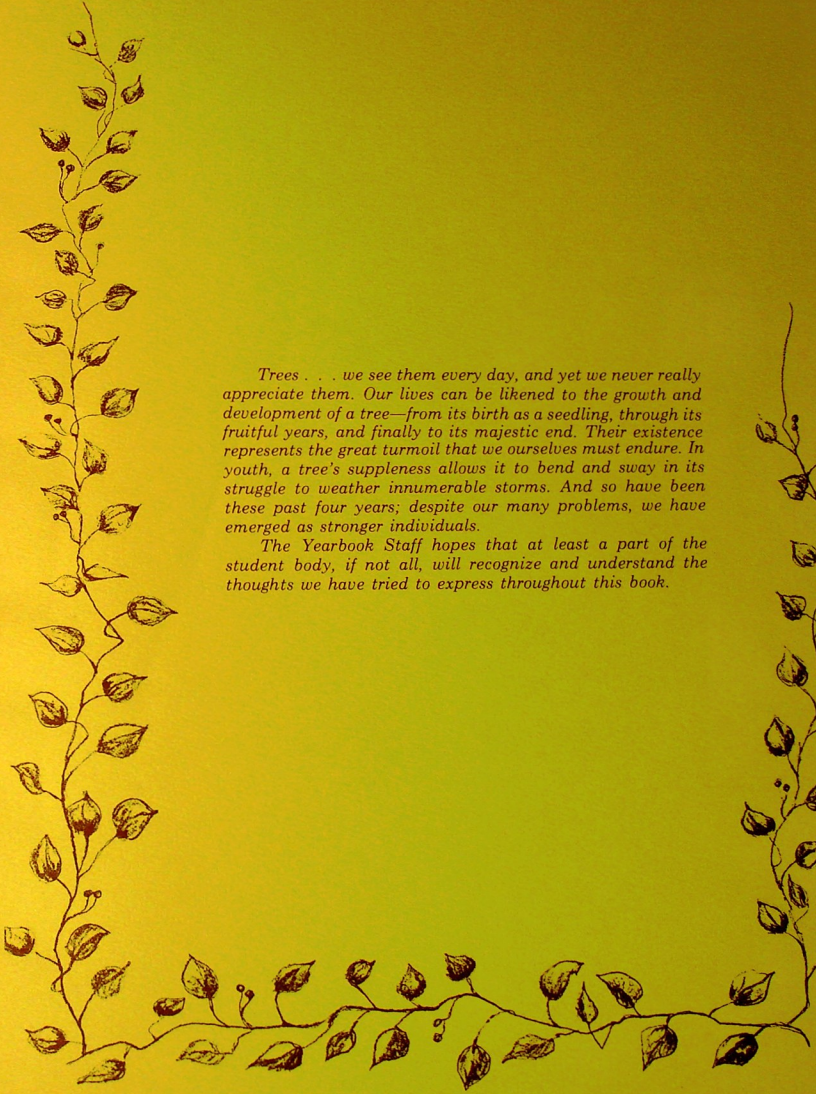

Jacques Prévert

MEMORY

*Memory, like tapestry,
Sets forth in colors gay
The hopes, the dreams, the happiness
That blessed our yesterday.
Golden threads for golden deeds,
Rosy tints for dreams come true;
For friendships earned and friendships held
Are tints of heavenly blue.*

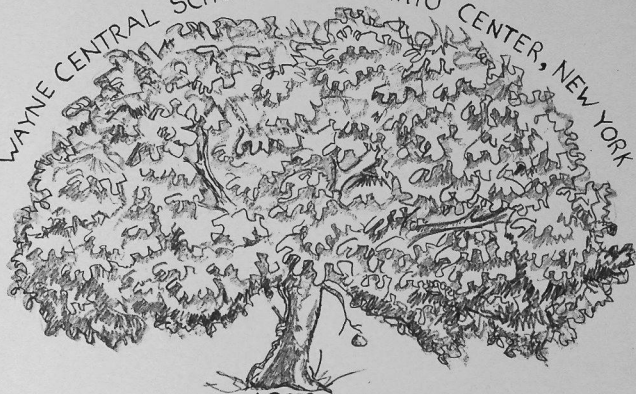

Ruth Cravens

Trees . . . we see them every day, and yet we never really appreciate them. Our lives can be likened to the growth and development of a tree—from its birth as a seedling, through its fruitful years, and finally to its majestic end. Their existence represents the great turmoil that we ourselves must endure. In youth, a tree's suppleness allows it to bend and sway in its struggle to weather innumerable storms. And so have been these past four years; despite our many problems, we have emerged as stronger individuals.

The Yearbook Staff hopes that at least a part of the student body, if not all, will recognize and understand the thoughts we have tried to express throughout this book.

We, of the 1972 Yearbook staff, proudly dedicate this yearbook to Miss Mary Ann Nicodemi. We feel that she contributes much to the education of the students who graduate from this school. She adds a certain charm to her classes which encourage her pupils to learn. Her interest in school activities has led her to become sophomore chairman, junior advisor, and the senior advisor twice.

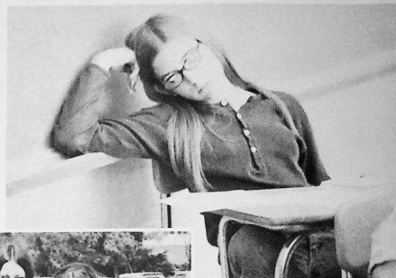

Miss Nicodemi, who resides at 156 Country Manor Way, Webster, New York, graduated from Nazareth College. She has also attended Oswego and Geneseo State Universities for extra courses.

We hope that Miss Mary Ann Nicodemi, who has been teaching at Wayne for 15 years, will remain here, with us, for years to come.

Look at that ham!

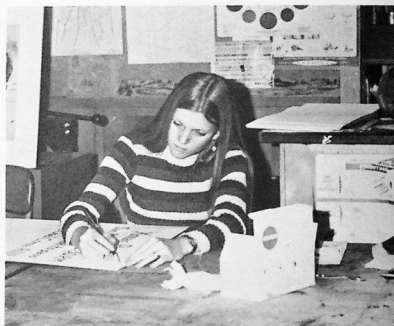

Such a stimulating class

Nutty friends

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Gail Reed—Vice President, Dave Albright—President, Mr. Judson Stuart—Advisor, Janet Rueger—Secretary, Diane Costenoble—Treasurer.

Gerta van Boxel—our foreign exchange student from Belgium

Dearest Friends,

I want to thank you all for the wonderful and unforgettable year you've given to me. I also esteem the agreeable atmosphere you've made me feel from the day I first stepped in the school. I'll never forget this and appreciate an awful lot for what you've all done for me. Every time I didn't know something you helped me. Maybe you don't believe it but I've never known so many friends before. Never have I felt myself alone. I'm very grateful to you all for the kindness and love you've given me. Of course I'll also remember all the cheerleaders, with whom I've spent many evenings together to cheer and support the Wayne wrestlers and basketball players.

I also want to express my gratitude for my host family who has taken care of me so well and who has always regarded me as one of them.

It was too bad the days flew away so fast. I could never wait to go to school. I'll certainly keep in touch with you all when I'm back in my country, Belgium.

Love and Peace.

Our Great Class Picnic

And it's Pam movin' up on the outside . . .

Keep on truckin'

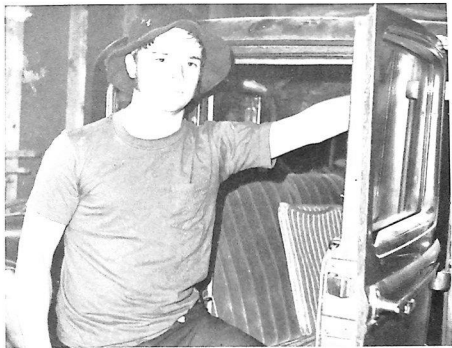

And see, Diane? You move the white horse over there.

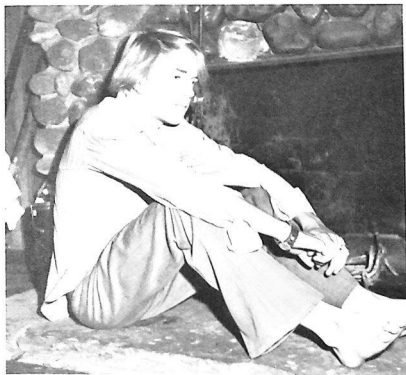

Richard Kerr—There is nothing so powerful as truth—and often nothing so strange.

Janet Rueger—Make life like a fried egg—sunny-side up.

Art Drummond—There's an art to faking answers.

Tom Denison—Drawing on my fine command of language, I said nothing.

Terri Peets—When someone comes to me for advice, I find out what he wants to hear and tell him.

Eileen Abraham—There is nothing more infectious than a laugh.

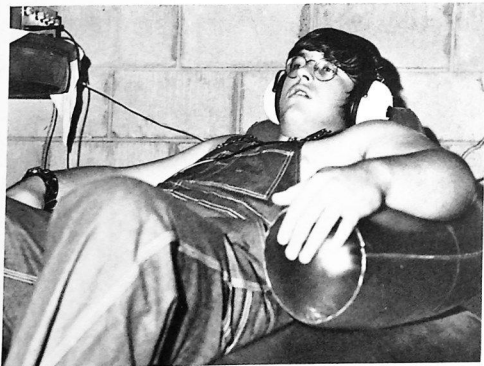

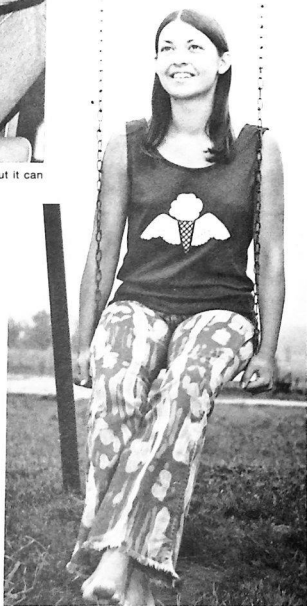

Jim Fulton—Humor is the hole that lets the sawdust out of stuffed shirts.

Paul Yarka—Perhaps money can't make you happy, but it can help you enjoy being miserable.

Robin Brown—To be in love is to be in a state of perpetual anesthesia.

Steve D'Onofrio—I was given the right of free speech—why not use it?

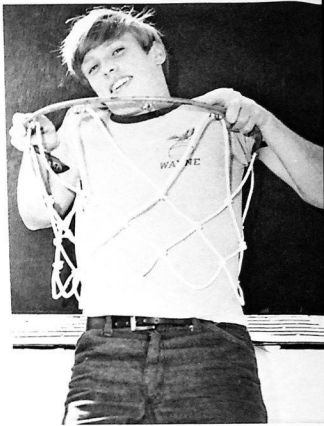

Mary Mitchell—Conscience: an inner voice that warns us someone is looking.

Mark Fleming—Patience: the ability to idle your motor when you feel like stripping the gears.

Bill Lewis—I've sometimes thought of studying—and then I've thought again.

Bob Mulye—If it takes a lot of words to say what you have in mind, give it more thought.

Ted Schoonmaker—I think funny.

Bill Abrams—One advantage of animals—they don't talk back.

Christine Swarthout—The greatest truths are the simplest.

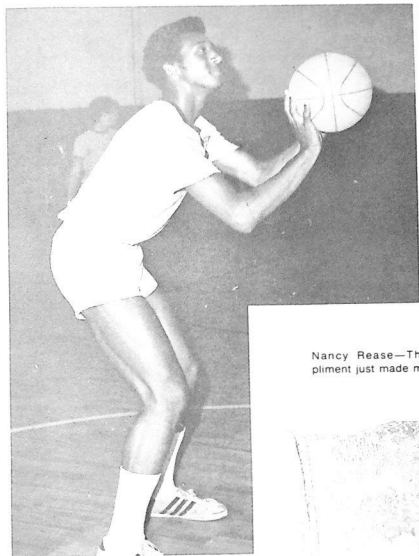

Marilyn Eaton—Friend: one who knows all about you and likes you just the same.

Dan Molino—The first and greatest commandment is, don't let them scare you.

Nancy Paige—Who said it couldn't be done.

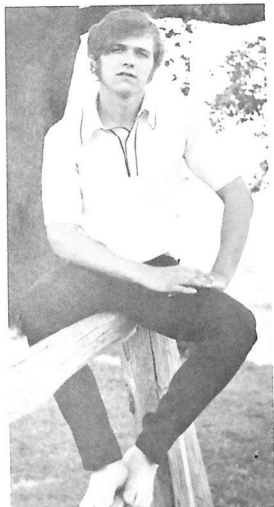

Cliff Harrell—Every athlete was first an amateur.

Nancy Rease—That compliment just made my day.

Jack Davis—My self-appointed job is to keep people from falling asleep in class.

Steve Blair—One man with courage makes a majority.

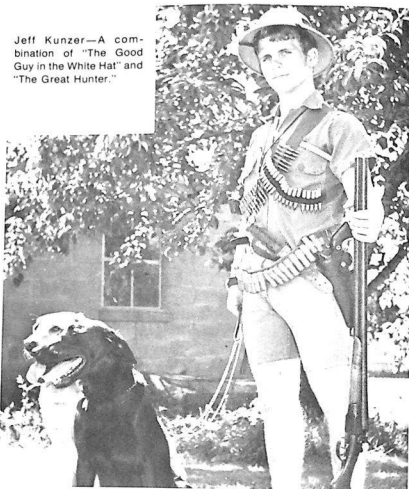

Jim Abbott—It's not that I don't like homework, it's just that usually there are better things to do.

Deb Bolender—Nature is a revelation of God; art a revelation of man.

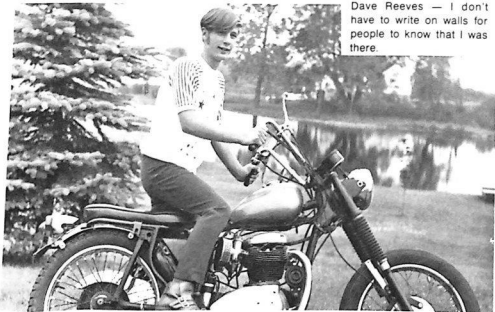

Jeff Kunzer—A combination of "The Good Guy in the White Hat" and "The Great Hunter."

Ann Frederes—Always do one thing more than you think you can do.

Dave Reeves — I don't have to write on walls for people to know that I was there.

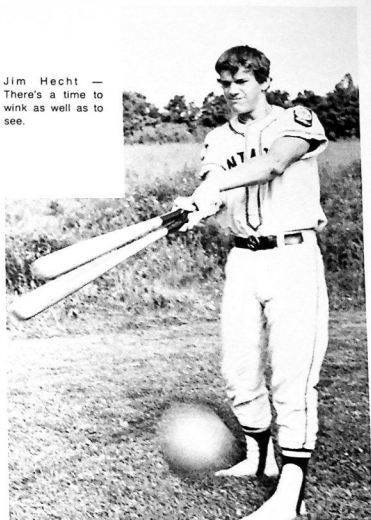

John Sullivan—All men are created equal; after that you're on your own.

Kim Helfer—Existence would be intolerable if we were never to dream.

Jim Hecht —
There's a time to wink as well as to see.

Mark Spencer—Sometime during the course of each day, every person must make at least a few sensible remarks.

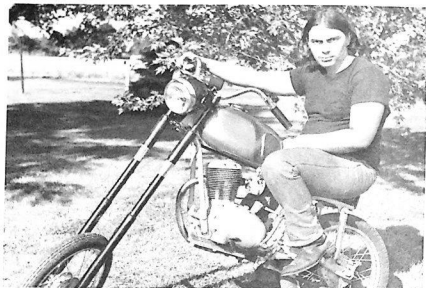

A quiet powerhouse of go!

Gail Walker—Patience is the best remedy for every trouble.

Janis Pitts—When a woman suffers in silence, she really does!

Mark Corbett—The devil does a nice business for such a lousy location.

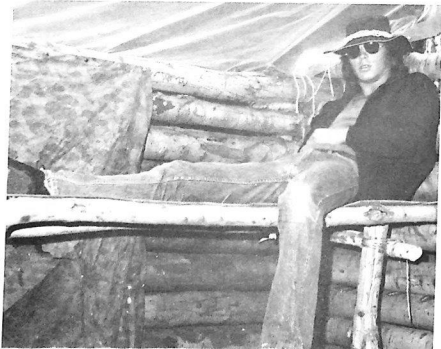

Don VanHaneghem—The truly independent person is someone who can exist in society without denying himself.

Eleanor Snyder—Love conquers everything!

Steve Foy—Nine-tenths of wisdom consists of being wise in time.

Pete Hightower—I only raise my voice when my argument needs reinforcing.

Peg Foos—Patience is the art of concealing your impatience.

Ray Swan—It's what you learn after you know it all that really counts.

Dan Almekinder—Homework? I don't have the time!

Teresa Hart—I'm not gullible—I just have faith.

Ken Triou—To whose advantage would it be?

Ken Morse—It is a very difficult thing to do nothing for a long time because you can't stop and rest occasionally.

Steve Mastrodonato—Life is a joke that has just begun.

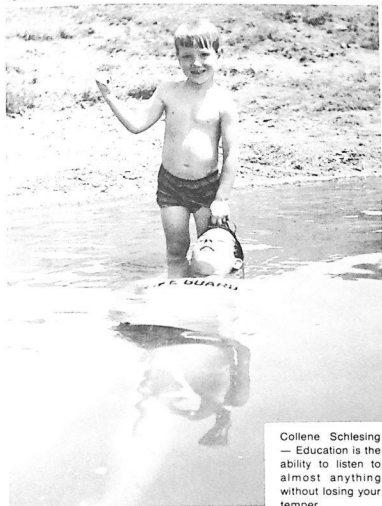

Bill Chapman—The function of the expert is not to be more right than other people, but to be wrong for more sophisticated reasons.

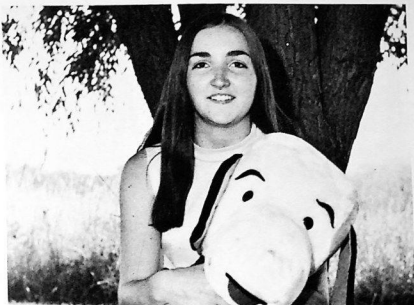

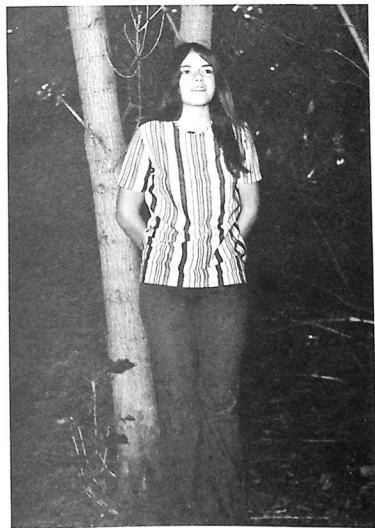

Bob Schlegel—Genius is the perception of the obvious which nobody else sees.

Sam Loquasto—My secret of winning an argument is to start by being right.

Collene Schlesing — Education is the ability to listen to almost anything without losing your temper.

Dawn Russell—Happiness is a habit—cultivate it.

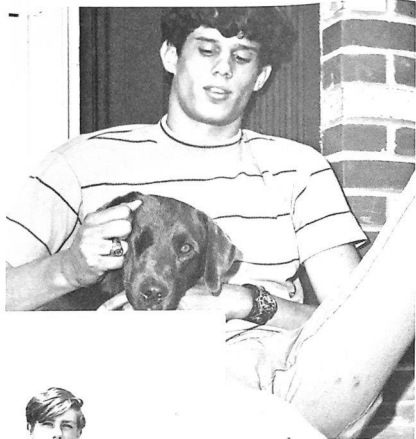

Jim Niedermaier — Men show their character by what they think is funny.

Elaine Peets — I believe it because it's impossible.

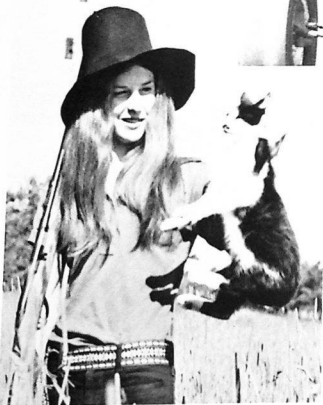

Ron Emison—He who blows his stack adds to the world's pollution.

Denny Dey—Able to leap tall buildings in a single bound.

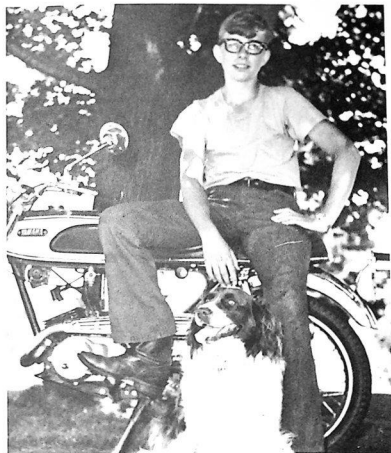

Dale Richmond — School is a nice place to visit but if I came every day I'd wear out my welcome.

Ginger Pye—You've come a long way baby!

Jim Smith—The most illogical thing about myself is that I am logical.

Richard Scott—Small matters win great commendations.

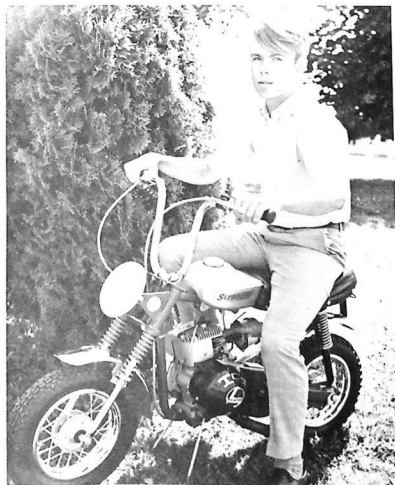

Scott Spencer—It's a good thing to read between the lines; it tires the eyes less.

Barb Lolacono—A little inaccuracy saves a world of explanation.

Chris Wacenske—A sense of humor makes all things tolerable—even school.

Duane Manktelow—Curiosity is one of the building blocks of knowledge.

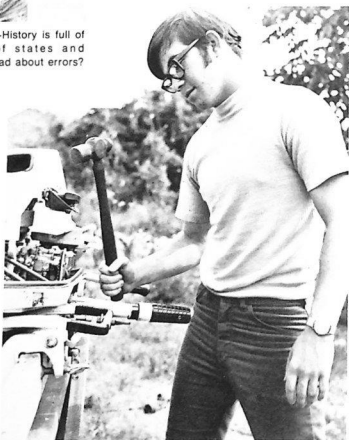

Erwin Bushart—Our wisdom comes from our experience, and our experience comes from our foolishness.

John Fitzgerald—It's a fine thing to be a gentleman, but it's a handicap when you drive a car.

Bob Anderson—History is full of the errors of states and princes—why read about errors?

Mike Vance—There is always a demand for a willing worker.

Jim Mogray—Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.

Bev Dixon—A real friend is one who walks in when the rest of the world walks out.

Sue Henning—Tact is the ability to describe others as they see themselves.

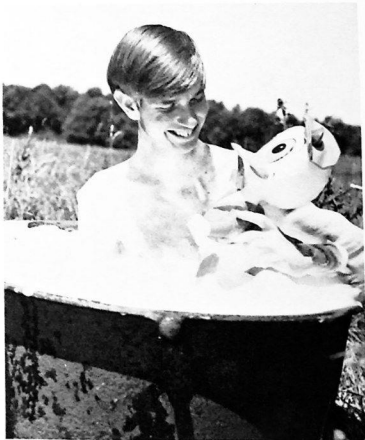

Steve LeViner—No driver needs perfect manners when he has a horn and a 10 ton truck.

Diane Costenoble — I'm happiest when I'm into the midst of things.

Dave Albright—A good leader is doing his job when half the people are following him and half are chasing him.

Roger Hansen—You done splendid!

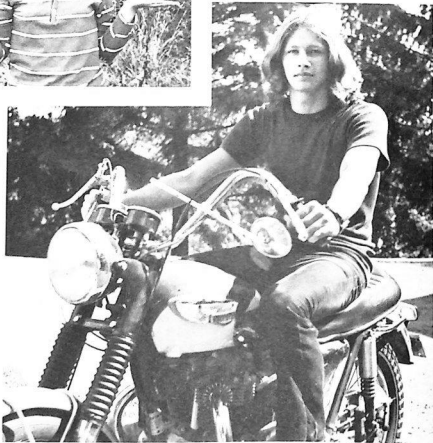

Joe Simpson—It's hard to like everyone, but I try.

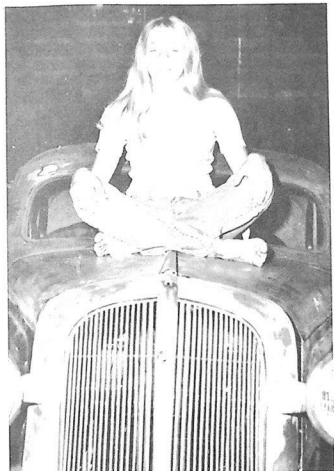

Gail Reed—Floating on a bubble.

Roxanne Schultz—Well, if I must, I must.

Paul Keymel—Work is the greatest thing in the world, so we should always save some of it for tomorrow.

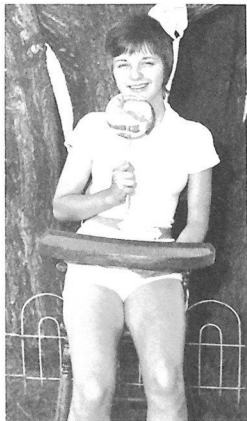

Pam Loucks—This is a great day. Laugh with it.

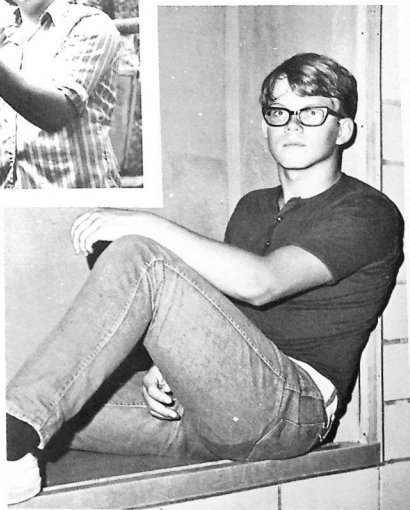

Scott Powell—Wisdom is the ability to discover the alternatives.

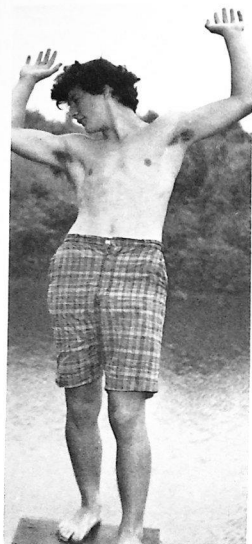

Joanne Boughton—The world belongs to an energetic person.

Charles Hamman—Life is one long process of getting tired.

Randy Luke—Modesty in a man is a crime. Don't be modest, it's a woman's virtue.

Randy Davis—While the right to talk may be the beginning of freedom, the necessity of listening is what makes this right important.

Betty Hollebrand—Man is the only animal that is able to profit by past experience.

Ruth Luety—If I stop to think, I might miss an opportunity.

Bruce Fisher—Constant talking is like garlic. If you are perfectly sure of yourself, you enjoy it and your friends tolerate it.

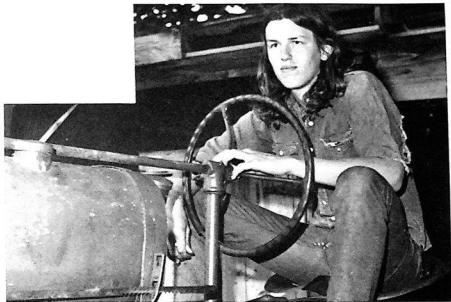

Frank Cappello—Never underestimate the power of mere words.

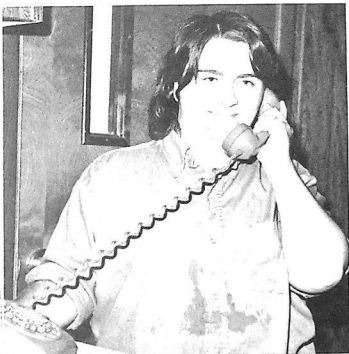

Betty Schreiber — If you can find a path with no obstacles, it probably doesn't lead anywhere.

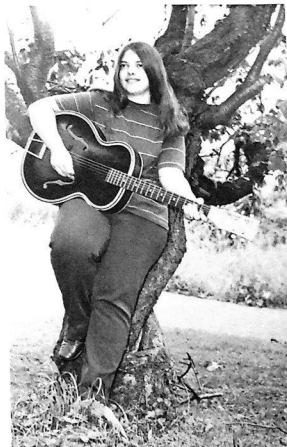

Don Colvin—Whenever I feel like exercise, I lie down until the feeling passes.

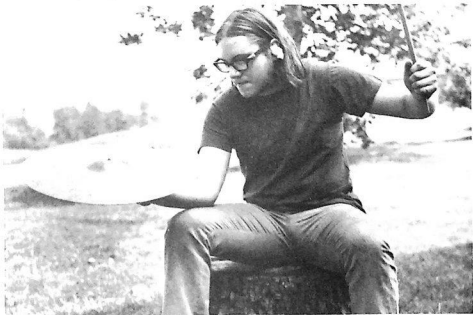

Eileen Quigley—The telephone is the best invention since the mouth.

Sue Haight—It's great to be great, but it's greater to be human.

Avery Munger—Sometimes I wonder how I ever got into this mess.

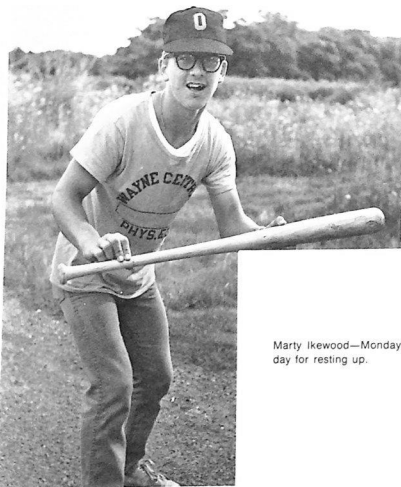

Pam Bastianson—Without men, life would be a mistake.

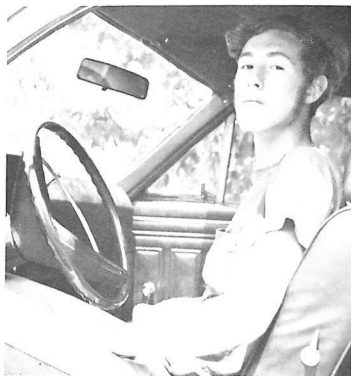

Dave Filsinger—All you have to do to entertain some people is listen.

Daryl Brown—Mere words are not enough. Music fills the gap.

Marty Ickwood—Monday—a day for resting up.

Debbie Peets—If a woman could have half her wishes, she would double her troubles.

Ed Field—Sometimes I amaze myself.

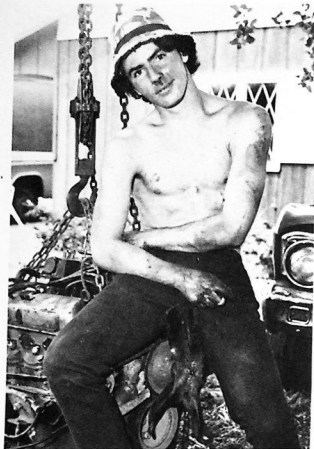

Skip Benton—You are making progress if each mistake you make is a new one.

Nancy Miller—The most important things in life aren't things.

Don Wilson—There's one way to find out if a guy's honest—ask him. If he says yes, he's crooked.

Thurman Harrell—He who said that love conquers all never met a wrestler.

Bob Trapp—Why worry? It only gives you ulcers.

Lisa Joslyn—Somewhere in my thinking process I think I blew a fuse.

Janice Youngman—Etiquette is learning to yawn with your mouth closed.

Karen Finzer—If you don't say anything, at least you won't be called on to repeat it.

Karen Sass—Lots of giggles and visits a lot!

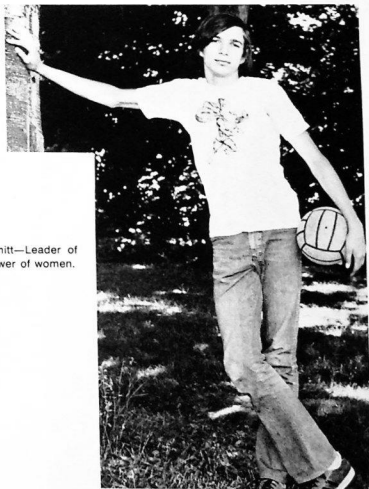

Mike Foley—You asked for it!

Debbie Priest—Happiness and contentment is progress. In fact, that's all progress is.

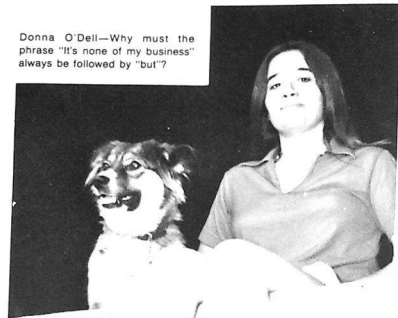

Barb Jones—I don't care how much a man talks as long as he says it in a few words.

Paul Schmitt—Leader of men, follower of women.

Donna O'Dell—Why must the phrase "It's none of my business" always be followed by "but"?

Ron Ryan — The only fellow who never steps on anybody else's toes is standing still.

Bev Peterson — Kindness matters most in human conduct.

Nathan Hyland—Life's a long headache in a noisy street.

Linda Hunt — To err is human; to refrain from laughing, humane.

Tom Hughes—Well, you know what I mean, don't you?

Ted Murrell—Imagination is more important than knowledge.

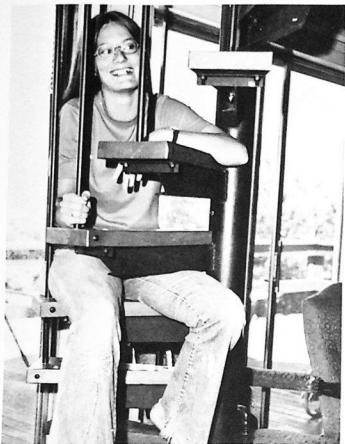

Marsha Williams—The deepest truths are read between the lines.

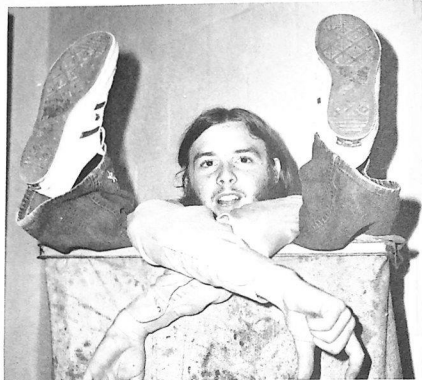

Dave Richmond
— The most useful virtue is patience.

Mike Coene—One of the finest accomplishments is making a long story short.

Rondi Lindquist—Keep your face to the sun and the shadows will fall behind.

Keith Donahue—I used to be conceited, but now I KNOW I'm perfect.

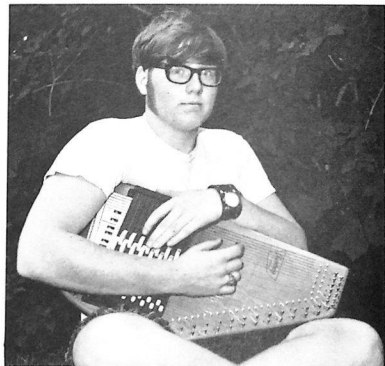

Sharon Glover—If you need a friend, I'm here.

Adrian Judd—Have the courage not to adopt another's courage.

Jim Schwind—Other people are likely to believe what is pleasant rather than true, but I prefer reality.

Bev Stevens—"The Princess of Sandwiches."

Jeff Spink—Patience is something you admire in the driver behind you and score in the one ahead.

Mike Strobl—Men would be a lot better off if they'd quit trying to understand women and just enjoy having them around.

Debbie Gallant—I try not to let the facts get in the way of my imagination.

Cindy Wing—Yesterday is experience. Tomorrow is hope. Today is getting from one to the other as best we can.

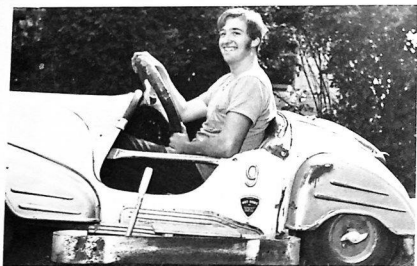

Dave Wilson—Caution: Studying may be detrimental to your health.

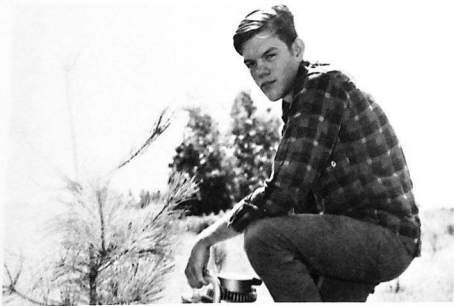

Steve Witt—Speak as you think to be what you are.

Renee Gentile—In the long run the pessimist may be proved right, but the optimist has a better time on the trip.

Don O'Dell—The person who can't make a mistake can't make anything.

Dale Van Enwyck—Life is the art of drawing sufficient conclusions from insufficient premises.

Diane Richardson—In order to be a realist you must believe in miracles.

David Hyman—Energy and persistence conquer all things.

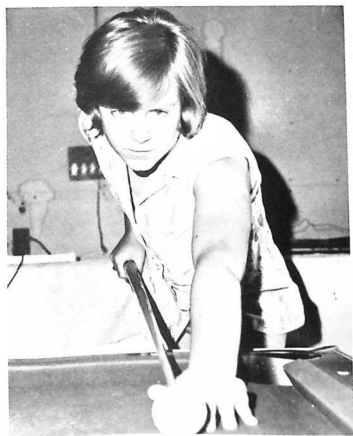

Gary Peets—Ideas are easy—it's getting them done that's hard.

Connie Smith—I may not know all the answers, but I probably won't be asked all the questions either.

Bill Burnett—An umpire is like a woman. He makes quick decisions, never reverses them, and doesn't think you're safe when you're out.

Penny Depew—I'd rather have one true friend than ten acquaintances.

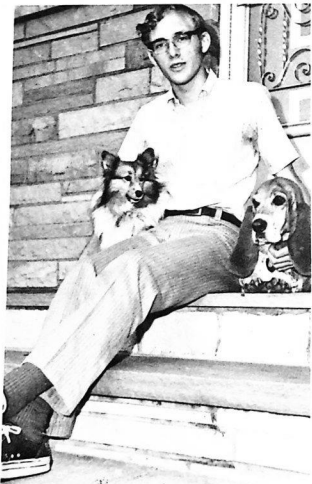

Rick Wilson—Work is my favorite spectator sport.

Cindy Lyon—Life is like a scrambled egg.

Dave Keen—A yawn may not be polite, but it lets everyone know how you feel.

Dave Syron—My idea of an agreeable person is one who agrees with me.

Jeri Havens—If every man is a volume, I think I'll take a course in speed reading.

Gerda VanBoxel—A smile is like a gift you can give each day.

Gene Brunell—When I think, I must speak.

Ann Kasperkoski—Worry is a word I don't allow myself to use.

Gaylord Bell—We were eyeball to eyeball and then she blinked.

ALCATRAZ
1-070472

Ron Sipple—What can be expected of a day that begins with getting up in the morning?

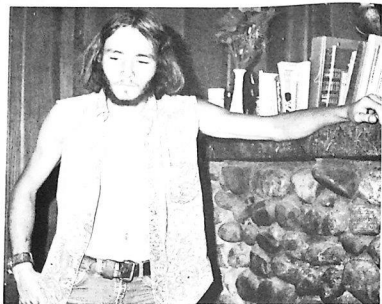

Peg Bargerstock—Jumping at several small opportunities may get us there more quickly than waiting for one big one to come along.

Steve Reinhart — Everyone who got where he is had to begin where he was.

Diane Page—Variety is the soul of pleasure.

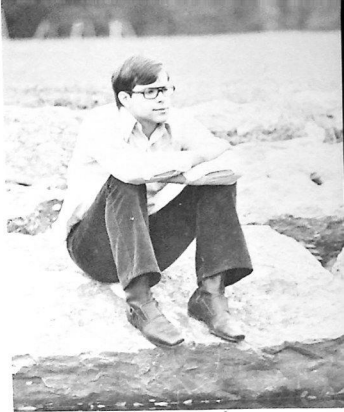

Ted VanDerKamp — Music is feeling, not sound.

Marlene Youngman—Smile and make the world a little happier.

Ken Knitter—The trouble with photographing beautiful women is that you never get into the dark room until after they've gone.

Barb Gregory—The happiest people are those who have no particular cause for being happy except that they are so.

Tracy Hyde—Being quiet sure takes a lot out of a guy!

Sheila Spear—You must look into people as well as at them.

Underclassmen

There are four branches that make-up the tree of knowledge. All are equally significant, for without them it would not survive.

The first branch is the youngest and has sprouted buds. It is lower, but not inferior to the others. If they reach toward the sky they will find nourishment, and will soon replace the other branches at the top of the tree.

The second has grown tall and straight. Its blossoms are in fullness, but the third branch must give it some support, so it may progress to maturity, where it will take the third branch's place.

Strong and full is the last branch. It has absorbed all the materials that it needed to bear fruit; mainly logic, and purposefulness.

Though each of the branches has been aided by one another in their developing stages, it was actually their own individual initiative that determined their success. Old branches will break off, new ones will emerge, and the tree will live as long as the three branches together will let it survive.

Faculty and Personnel

A tree is able to improve the world by supplying oxygen. Enrichment of their students' minds and maintaining a good school are the goals of the faculty and personnel.

The job of the teaching staff is one of the most important because their teaching partially determines the success of the next generation. A successful teacher inspires his students to learn and makes each student's school years beneficial.

Many factors influence a tree's growth, development, and future. The guidance department is one of the main factors affecting these variables in each student's life. Students are helped in planning their future as well as their school years to make them more rewarding.

The office secretaries provide a very useful service to our school. Without their efficient help in handling the requests and problems of the students, faculty members, and administration, our school would be much less orderly.

Without nourishment, a tree becomes part of the past. So it happens with people. Providing a daily meal for Wayne Central students and faculty are a group of experienced women who do a tremendous job feeding so many people.

To us, the custodians and maintenance men play an important role in keeping our school in a top operating condition. They are dedicated workers who do a very required and greatly appreciated job of making our school ready for us the next day.

Just as roots provide a means of transportation for a plant's needs, our buses provide transportation for us each day. To be a good bus driver, patience and skill are needed, and we are indeed fortunate to have such a group of people.

DEAR CLASS OF 1972:

Another June, another graduation; but a very special one that is uniquely yours.

Where will you be five years, ten years, twenty years from now? I hope that, wherever you are, Wayne has helped you to develop your special talents so that your life has meaning and fulfillment.

Best wishes for the future.

Sincerely,

Emory Faulks

As you read this in your years to come, I hope that you will look back at Wayne Central with fondness.

If you use your knowledge, skills, and attitudes wisely, the world will be a better place because of the class of 72.

I have enjoyed the opportunity to share an important part of your life. If I can be of any assistance in the future, please do not hesitate to contact me.

My sincerest wish is that you will find your high school career a profitable preparation for the years ahead. As you reflect on your experiences at Wayne Central, try not to be too critical of your school or yourself. Of course, we and you might have done better. After you've been out a few years, we'll ask you to tell us about yourselves. May you be happy and successful, whatever your endeavors may be.

Mrs. Suwijn—Secretary

Perhaps it's that we started as freshmen at Wayne that the class of '72 seems special to me. We have learned a great deal in 4 years and although you will leave Wayne, we will continue to learn. Let each of us make every effort to use our learning for the betterment of mankind.

Yearbook

Mr. Shaffer—Advisor

Understudies—S. May, L. Nagel

Diane Costenoble—Co-Editor, Sharon Glover—Editor-in-Chief

Many people believe that a yearbook is assembled only by staying after school and in spare moments. However, a great deal more work is put into its production than can ever be measured. Hours and hours are taken to acquire precision in photography and layouts that are finally gathered into a book which represents this school.

The various members of the yearbook staff have combined their ideas and talents to make a yearbook which they hope will surpass all other yearbooks in both creativity and originality.

Diane Costenoble

Nearly everyone comes to a situation through life when they don't know quite what to write or say—such is this time for me. I hope that we, a very minute percentage of students, have succeeded in producing a yearbook which will let memories of our high school days linger in our minds for many years to come. I'd like to thank the faculty and the students for their cooperation. But my deepest gratitude goes to our advisor who let us carry the responsibility and had faith in us, which to me is most important.

Thanks to all,
Sharon Glover

SPORTS

Athletic competition requires more than sheer physical strength; it must be a combination of mind and body. Although the athletic program is very diversified, there are certain similarities among Wayne Central's athletes. While striving for victory, each participant displays true sportsmanship.

Through the efforts of the hard-working players and dedicated coaches, each individual's potential is exercised to the fullest. Through athletic competition, a person learns discipline, teamwork, and responsibility. The Wayne Eagles possess these qualities and, therefore, experience many victories. The members of our school show their appreciation of the teams by their support as spectators. Each team can be proud of its accomplishments because every athlete has given his utmost for the betterment of the team.

... and then I made him eat dirt.

Gee, Capri, I feel like a baby kangaroo.

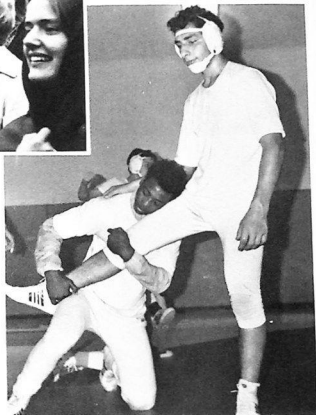

"Let's do like the birdies do"

"Have ya' got that spirit?"

"How come I never get to play?"

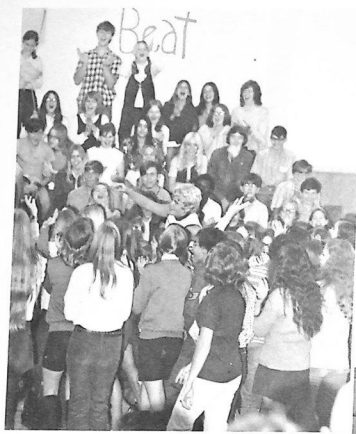

"Oh, come off it!"

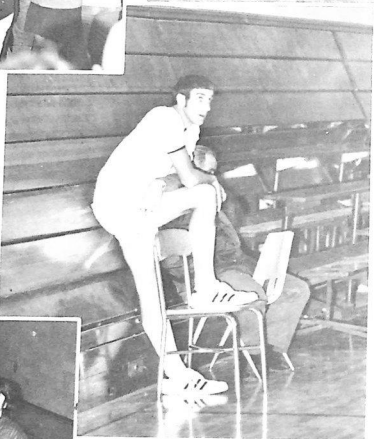

"Now boys, let's settle . . . this peacefully."

"It must have been a victory!"

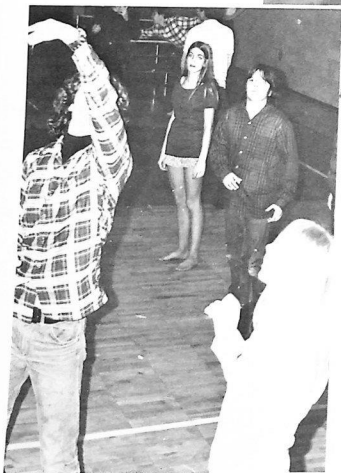

Way to go, Chris!

Let's see a little more hustle!

See, it's all in the wrist.

It's a great kick-off!

What skill . . . What grace . . .

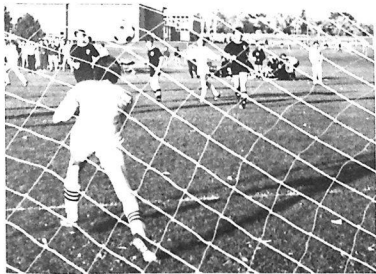

Where'd it go?

Folks, it's a 300 yard punt!

Imprisoned.

Rah!

CHORUS

ACCOMPANIST

T. Hart, L. Fisher.

The Wayne Central Concert Band has gained a reputation as one of the finest musical organizations in the area. Under the leadership of Gerald McClure, the members of the band were able to undertake several different projects. This year a section of the band traveled to Wayne's elementary school's to give beginning players a sample of what the instruments sounded like, individually and as a group. Other trips such as to Alfred Ag. and Tech. for a band festival were also planned.

There were several divisions of the Concert Band which allowed for more specialized music. Among the divisions were; The Christmas Wind Ensemble which played at the jazz, and the Pit Band that was developed to accompany the spring musical.

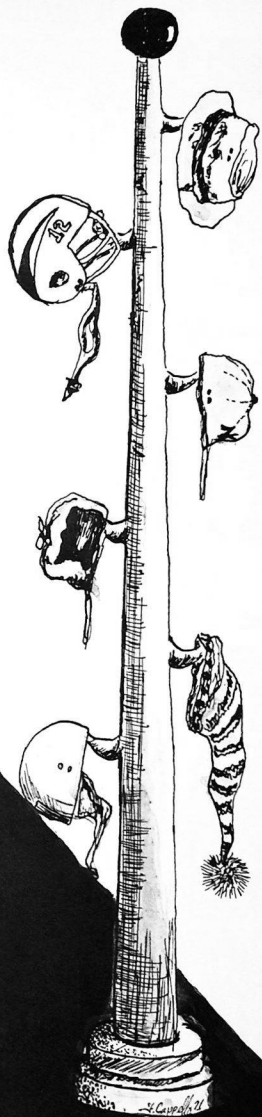

This year, due to an increased enrollment, the chorus, directed by Mr. Jeffrey S. Berger, has branched out into two large ensemble groups—a concert Choir or Senior Chorus, and a Freshman Girl's Chorus. Serving as officers of the Senior Chorus are Tom Hughes as President, Pat Runne as Vice President, Cindy Lyon as Secretary, and Cheri Bamford as Treasurer. Carol Hermann holds the position of President of the Freshman Girl's Chorus. In addition, a Madrigal-Pop Chorus, the "Berger Bunch" was formed. In the Spring, smaller ensembles will be formed, including a men's group and a women's group.

After a very successful Christmas Concert, they all look forward to a most enjoyable year; the highlights being a production of the Broadway Musical, "Music Man", the spring concert and finally, the traditional Baccalaureate.

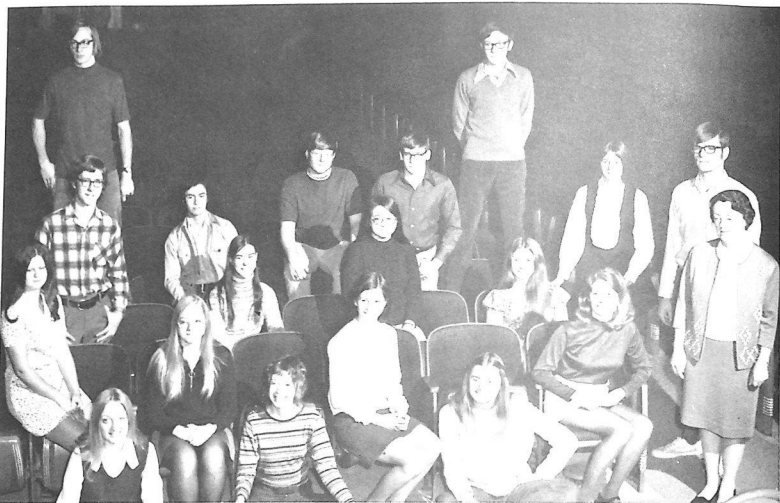

Without the efforts of each band and chorus member and our fine directors, these many feats could not have been accomplished.

JR.
PROM
QUEEN

The Class of '72 presented their Junior Prom, "Camelot", on February 27, 1971. Diane Costenoble was chosen queen, with Eileen Abraham as lady-in-waiting, Patti Wauters as senior attendant, Nancy Rease as junior attendant, Mary Moshano as sophomore attendant, and Barb Buchiere as freshmen attendant. The beauty of the medieval castle, which the class created, added to the formal atmosphere of the successful prom.

Activities

The many clubs and activities of Wayne Central provide something that appeals to almost everyone. Just as the wood of a tree has varied uses, the clubs and activities have different purposes. Their goals include service to the school and community, advancement of intellectual interests, and the pursuit of hobbies. These clubs and activities help unify the many students and faculty members into a close-knit school body.

Janet Rueger

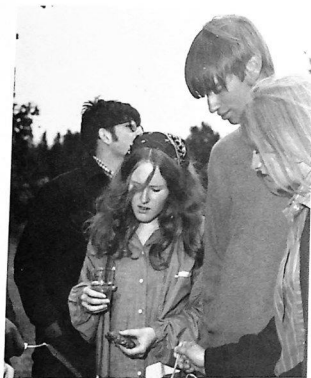

What do you mean the photographer forgot to put film in the camera?

I've heard of a knuckle sandwich, but this is ridiculous!

Maybe if I brush it off, no one will know the difference.

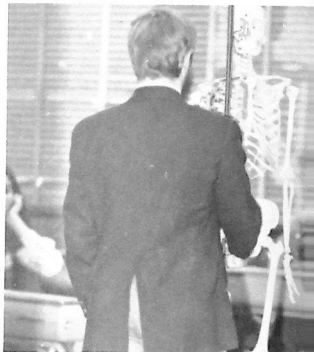

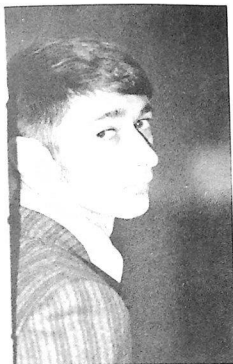

Mr. "Body-Beautiful"?

Well, they ain't no Rockettes, but they'll do.

Hey, that close-up smile really turns me on.

I'm working under cover.

OOPSI! I think I swallowed it.

Now . . . as soon as I get the marbles from my mouth.

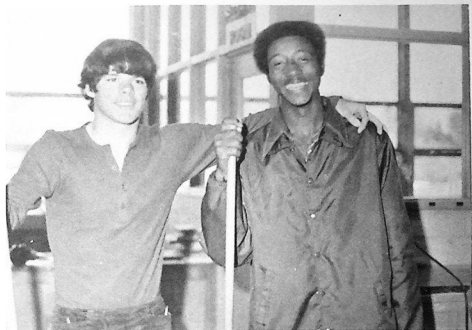

The Consultation.

Chalk one up for Randy!

These trivial recreational activities fail to stimulate my adrenaline.

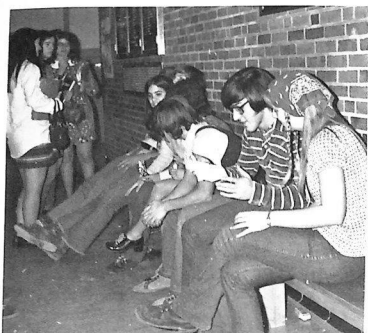

Buddies till the end.

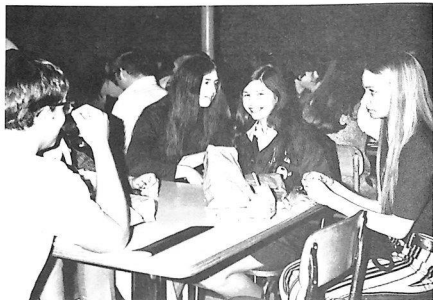

"Four score and seven years ago . . ."

Okay, Norm, I surrender!

Aw, c'mon, Paul . . . let me see it.

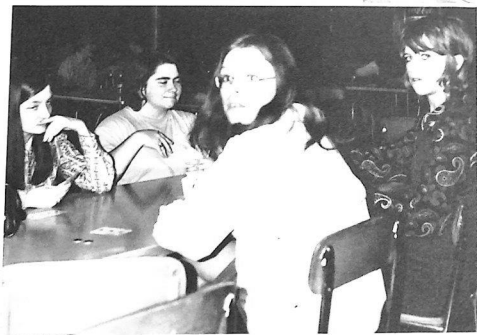

Meet ya tomorrow . . . same time . . . same table.

Mark, the word is
"cheese", not Dah.

Where IS my speech??

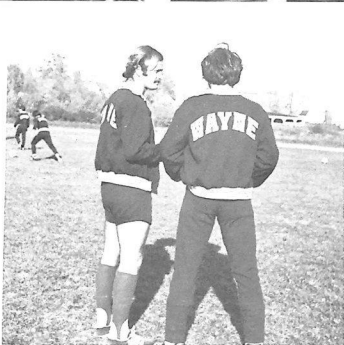

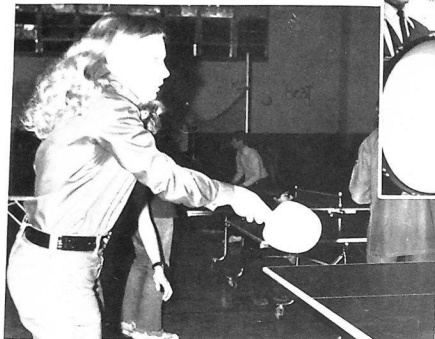

Stash the loot . . . the camera's around!

Smile when you say that.

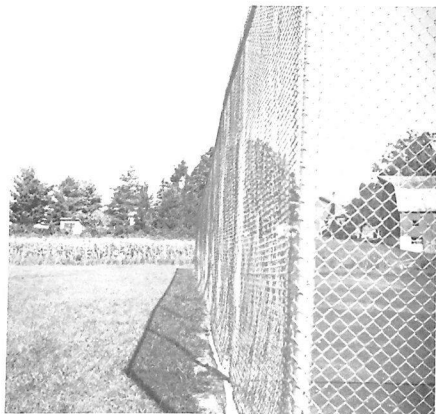

Okay, you gotta keep your cool.

Uh . . . you still owe me three sketches.

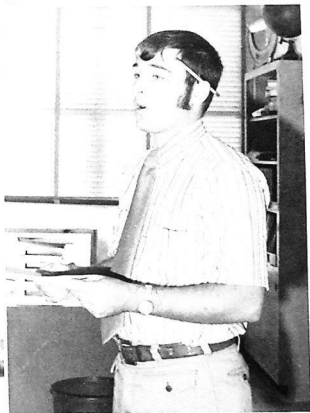

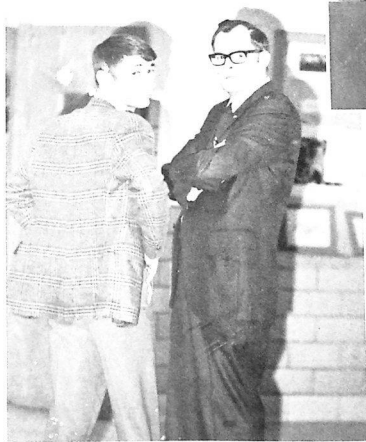

Monday mornings . . . biah!

Step lively now, ladies.

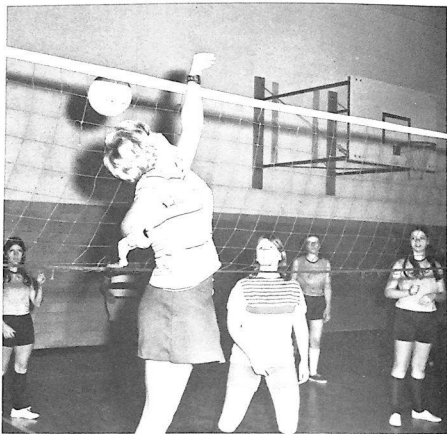

Hang on, we're going in.

Let's nab him now.

Could this possibly be a future Miss America?

Teresa, I don't think you're going to reach that note.

It's been a long trip, but we've finally made it.

Our new arrival

Dave and Keith: Candy King's revenge.

Thanks again, Ken,
for doing such a great job on our senior studies.

No, I didn't make my crutches in shop!
